3 March 2011

US Army Dental Corps,

I extend my best wishes and congratulations to all of the dedicated professionals of the US Army Dental Corps, today 3 March 2011, the Centennial Celebration of the Dental Corps.

We can be truly proud of our Corps' outstanding contributions, not only to the Army, but to the health and well being of our Nation's Warriors. The role of Army dental officers- supported by civilian providers, NCO's and ancillary staff- in maintaining the dental readiness and health of our Soldiers is a responsibility that is met daily and has been met continuously for 100 years.

I want to share my pride in our accomplishments throughout the last century. May we have continued success as we face the challenges and opportunities of the next 100 years.

Thank you for all you do in support of Soldiers and the Army!

Sincerely,

M. Ted Wong
